Did you know your small animal isn't getting enough protein? Does your rabbit, guinea pig, hamster, mouse, or other tiny creature have issues maintaining a glossy coat, or feel bony and thin? Do they chew their fur, or often have low energy? Chances are, they need more protein in their diet, protein that simply is not provided in readily available, pet store feeds.

Foofins has the solution! Perfectly portioned protein packs that critters adore!

We have packs for every species, so try one out today and make a commitment to healthier pets!

Wow! These supplements really work! My rabbit Toto was having issues keeping a healthy weight with just pet store feed and hay. Foofins was exactly the boost he needed, and now his fur is shinier than ever, and he feels smooth over the back instead of thin and bony.

Celine Vallieres

I raised and showed rabbits and guinea pigs for 10 years, but recently I moved to the city and started keeping small animals as pets. Because I don't have access to the premium feed I used to through the show community, I turned to Foofins so I could ensure my animals get the protein they need to stay happy and healthy!

Megan Royce

I didn't know my furry friends needed more vitamins until I brought them Foofins, and the difference is amazing. I have never seen my two guinea pigs so lively! And just in time, I just found out my female is pregnant, so the extra boost in protein will really help her while she is nursing.
